Admission to the Library of barristers, solicitors and other practising lawyers

While the primary function of the Institute Library is to provide a world class research library for university law teachers and postgraduate research degree students, the Institute is aware of the uniqueness of certain parts of the collection and has agreed to allow practising barristers and solicitors access to the Library for material not readily available elsewhere. The scale of fees is laid down by the Director. All enquiries concerning admission to the Library should be addressed to the Library Administrative Officer.
